

TAX BILL UP AS BONUS IS PASSED

SOLDIER COMPENSATION WRITTEN IN LAW OVER VETO OPENS TAX FIGHT

Party Leaders in Congress Seek To Speed Up Final Action On Reduction Bill—Bonus Has Votes To Spare.

Washington, May 20.—With the soldiers' bonus bill written into law over President Coolidge's veto, party leaders in congress today sought to speed up final action on the new tax reduction bill.

The measure, which has been the subject of a fight between Congress and two successive presidents, was passed Monday by the senate over President Coolidge's veto by a vote of 59 to 36.

This was a margin of two votes more than the necessary two-thirds majority as compared with the 52 votes there were to spare when the veto was overridden in the house last Saturday.

The tax measure, now in conference for adjustment of rates, which differed in the house and senate bills will provide a flat 25 per cent reduction on all income taxes for the present year and a general slashing of federal taxes for future years.

The crushing defeats administered the President by both house and senate when he sought to prevent passage of the bonus by a veto, were reported to have greatly weakened administration opposition to the new revenue measure.

Presidential spokesmen, who openly condemned the tax bill a week ago because it failed to include the Mellon plan, were now said to favor acceptance of the measure in the relief that another legislative clash between the White House and congress would result in grave damage to the President's political fortunes.

This belief was heightened by reliable reports that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had practically withdrawn his opposition to the congressional tax bill, which ultimately will be a compromise between the Longworth Republican house bill and the Simmons Democratic senate measure. Mellon was said to have told friends he would not urge a veto of the tax bill.

The bonus payments will be distributed over a period of twenty years q Bb?ub?j raj: prTr?utuyduetv o with the bulk of payments due at the end of the twentieth year, about the time most of America's war debts will be refunded. For this reason, Mellon was reported to feel the bonus and tax bills would not clash nor wreak a severe financial hardship upon the government.

An approximate surplus of $400,000,000 now in the federal treasury, it was said, would be ample to meet the $152,000,000 payments due upon the bonus next year as well as the 25 per cent reduction in taxes for the current year. Thereafter the annual bonus payments will be comparatively trivial until the twentieth year, when nearly $3,000,000,000 must be expended.

At that time, it was pointed out, foreign debt refundments will be due the United States, which total four times the bonus outlay.

Congressional leaders today indicated the tax bill would be reported out of the conference this week for final action in the senate and house. Under the rules the bill will be considered first by the house and if the compromise rates the accepted there, it will then go to the senate for the final touch before being sent to the White House.

In the next few days the principal provisions of the tax measure will be settled by the conferees. These will include normal and surtaxes upon incomes corporation, gift and inheritance.

WILLIS EXPLAINS VOTE ON MEASURE ARRANGING BONUS

Washington, May 20.—The vote of Senator Frank B. Willis, Ohio, Republican, who was lined up with the 59 Senators who supported the motion to override President Coolidge's veto of the soldiers' bonus bill yesterday, was explained by Senator Willis in a letter to Ohio constituents.

The letter is being sent out as a form answer to between 1,200 and 1,500 telegrams which have been received by Senator Willis and Senator Simeon D. Fess, his Ohio colleague, in the last three days, urging them to support the President's veto.

Senator Fess made no effort to answer the telegrams received by him. Senator Willis's letter follows: "Your telegram relative to the adjusted compensation measure was duly received and carefully considered. By this time, of course, you know of my vote and that the senate felt it could not agree with you and many others in this matter."

"As I view the adjusted compensation measure, it is an attempt to overcome the economic handicap suffered by the American soldier. During the war wages at home increased by leaps and bounds—the soldiers' wages did not increase. The man who stayed at home and worked in a factory making ammunition saw his wages mount up to $6, $8 or $10 a day while the man who was on the firing line shooting this ammunition at the enemy received $1 a day."

"War-time pay was generally adjusted by employers of labor. The United States Government itself has been paying a bonus to its civilian employees since the war; the amount paid amounting to approximately $300,000,000. Why should not some increase in pay go to the soldiers? The bill which has passed does not provide for a general cash bonus, but furnishes paid-up insurance for the protection of soldiers and their families. War contractors and railroads were properly compensated to the amount approximately of $2,500,000,000."

"I personally felt the government owed a financial obligation to our soldier boys. This bill is an honest, conservative effort to discharge this obligation growing out of war, and while I greatly regretted to disagree with the President and with citizens like yourself, I trust you will give the honor to believe that after most careful consideration of the facts, as I know them, I voted as I conscientiously believed to be right."

PHOTOGRAPHS BY TELEPHONE NOW MATTER OF TIME

New York, May 20.—Photographs by telephone!

Within a comparatively short time, according to telephone officials today you can, if you are in San Francisco, or any other city, send your latest picture to your sweetheart, parent or rich relative in New York.

Five minutes after you place the "order" in whatever city you may be in, the photograph will have been received at its destination.

The sending of the photographs over a telephone wire as a part of the commercial business of the telephone company is a prospect of the immediate future, officials declared.

A wire set up between Cleveland and New York, transmitted fifteen photographs of various persons and scenes. The "photograph circuit" will be used to send photographs taken during the Republican national convention to the New York newspapers.

POSITION STRENGTHENED

Philadelphia, Pa. May 20.—Calvin Coolidge's candidacy for the Republican nomination for President has been strengthened by his firm stand on the bonus and will not be hurt by the senate overriding his veto, Senator David A. Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, declared here today.

MANY OVERCOME BY SMOKE EARLY TUESDAY IN N. Y.

Two Fires in East Cause Property Loss Before They Are Put Out.

New York, May 20.—Eighty firemen were injured, most of them overcome by smoke, in fighting two fires early today. One of the fires on the battery waterfront and destroyed one of the oldest piers in the city. Two firemen were overcome by smoke and two others collapsed from exhaustion while fighting this blaze.

Firemen, responding to the waterfront fire, were worn out after fighting a stubborn blaze on lower Broadway in which seventy six firemen were injured, overcome by smoke.

The destroyed pier was known as the Old Coney Island pier. The blaze was discovered by an airfield dog, whose barking attracted a watchman's attention to flames shooting out of the windows.

Firemen aided by a fireboat, dragged merchandise, laden floats and a United States mail boat out of the path of the flames.

The Broadway fire swept through a five story loft building and burned its way through rubber, leather and cotton goods.

A temporary hospital had to be established nearby because of the frequency of prostrations. Many firemen were cut by broken glass and the rest overcome by chemical fumes and smoke.

ALLEGED BANDITS ARE SHOT; POLICE SEEK THEIR LOOT

Martins Ferry, O. May 20.—Pennsylvania state police and local officers today were searching houses in Tiltonville, near here, for some of the loot taken by two robbers in a $70,000 payroll robbery of the West End Coal Company at Moosic, Pa., last July.

Jack Stummy, 28, one of the alleged bandits was dead by his own hand and John Tonti, 40, his companion, was fighting for his life in a hospital here. He was shot late yesterday when the two took refuge in a railroad shanty, after Pennsylvania constabularymen had recognized them on the streets of Tiltonville, as the men they had been seeking since the payroll robbery.

Following the robbery a street car passenger was killed and three others, including the conductor, wounded.

SMITH POWERFUL MAN IN JUSTICE DEPARTMENT OF U. S.

Washington, May 20.—The activities of Jess W. Smith, late friend of former Attorney General Daugherty, within the department of justice were described to the Brookhart committee today by L. C. Bailey, former chief of the bureau of investigation.

Bailey testified that Daugherty gave orders that every request of Smith should be followed within the department.

The witness said Smith "gave orders all the time" and frequently caused the dismissal of department agents whom he did not like.

"Smith was the most powerful man in the department next to the Attorney General," said Bailey.

DAUGHERTY COUNSEL FILES AMENDMENT TO APPLICATION

Cincinnati, May 20.—Counsel for Mal S. Daugherty, of Washington, D. C., this morning filed in U. S. District Court an amendment to their application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Daugherty, a brother of the former attorney general of the United States, is accused of contempt of the senate in refusing to arrange a summons to testify before the committee investigating Harry M. Daugherty's regime in the department of justice.

The first move of the banker was to go to the Federal Court to test the power of Senators Smith W. Brookhart and Burton K. Wheeler to examine records of the Midland National Bank at Washington, C. H., where the former attorney general was alleged to have made large deposits during his term of office.

The amendment denies the validity of proceedings against Daugherty.

RENEWED EFFORTS TO COLLECT U. S. DEBT OWED BY EUROPE STARTED

Washington, May 20.—Renewed efforts on the part of the United States government to collect some of the $11,000,000,000 owed by European nations will be made in the very near future as a result of the passage of the soldiers' bonus insurance legislation, it was stated authoritatively today.

There is one way by which the cost of the bonus may be met and the demand for tax reduction complied with, without undue embarrassment or hardship to the government, it was pointed out, and that is by getting Europe's war debt on a basis that will produce something.

Treasury officials, busy with their pencils today, figured that Europe's unfunded debt to the United States will double itself in twenty years and in 1944, at the present rate and under present conditions, will approximate $12,000,000,000.

In 1945 the government will be called upon to take up the burden of the veterans' insurance policies involving an outlay of $3,000,000,000. At the same time, there will mature some billions in liberty bonds. Against this day of financial reckoning, there must be piled up a huge surplus and eyes of officialdom were turned hopefully today toward Europe.

New figures obtained by the treasury today showed that Europe's total indebtedness on May 15 was $11,888,753,927, of which $10,556,088,151 is principal. Unpaid interest is piling up at the rate of $267,000,000 a year.

Only three nations have funded their indebtedness and put it on a basis of regular payments—Great Britain, Finland and Hungary. Britain's debt was $4,557,000,000. The others were relatively small. A semi-annual interest payment of $60,000,000 is expected from Britain June 15.

The French, Italian and Belgian debts constitute the bulk of the unfunded indebtedness. France's debt originally amounted to $3,340,520,704. Because she has made no efforts to fund it, interest at 5 per cent has swelled the total to $4,063,302,927, as of May 15. Italy's original debt was $1,647,597,050, and for the same reason now totals $2,056,279,323.

Nations that have funded pay only 3 per cent; those that have not pay 5 per cent—or rather have it tacked on their principal.

Officials are hopeful that with the adoption of the Dawes report and the return of Europe to comparative stability, France, Italy and Belgium, the chief beneficiaries of the Dawes plan, will be able to make some move toward adjustment of their American obligations.

None of them have made any real move in this direction yet. France sent over a representative two years ago who conducted some conversations with treasury officials, returned to France, and thereafter nothing was heard.

Agitation is growing in Congress for the American debt funding commission to send reminders to these three nations that they owe the United States a lot of money and that this payment is in a receptive mood for payment.

This agitation has been held in check by the uncertain state of reparations. Now that this issue is on the road to settlement and the government has just taken on a new financial burden in the way of the bonus payments, the question of Europe's payment again becomes acute.

NIGHTINGALES' VOICES CARRY OVER ATLANTIC

Paris, May 20.—Amateur radio operators at Columbus reported today they had picked up the trills and chirps of nightingales broadcasted from Surrey, England last night.

Miss Beatrice Harrison, a musician, went to Oxford, Surrey, and lured the birds into song with a cello. A sensitive microphone and amplifier were placed in a garden whence the birds' song was transmitted.

The amendment denies the validity of proceedings against Daugherty.

ONE MAN KILLED AT CLEVELAND—SHIP CONSUMED

Largest Passenger Vessel On Great Lakes Menaced During Conflagration

Cleveland, O., May 20.—One man was believed to have been burned to death when the steamer State of Ohio, burned to the waters edge at the docks of the Cleveland and Buffalo Transit Company, early today.

A John Lee, night watchman, employed for more than forty years, was missing after the fire.

The fire, of undetermined origin, broke out shortly before 3 o'clock. It gained rapid headway, and drove three other members of the crew from the vessel. Missing Lee, they attempted to reach the galley where he was believed to be asleep, but were driven back by a solid sheet of flame.

A strong wind increased the fury of the flames and while fire tugs and all downtown fire apparatus joined in an effort to save the vessel, they were unable to make any headway.

For a time, the flames threatened to spread to the See and Bee, the largest passenger vessel on the Great Lakes, which was tied up at an adjoining pier.

The State of Ohio was built forty years ago. In recent years it had been used exclusively in excursion traffic between Cleveland, Cuyahoga Point and Toledo. Loss was estimated at $100,000.

When the girl became ill Sheriff Morris Sharp called Dr. Paul Espey and Dr. B. R. McClellan and summoned the girl's parents, Miss Louise Shaffer, secretary and Miss Helen Evers, nurse, of the Red Cross, also took charge of the case.

Hospital attaches said Tuesday the girl rallied from the operation and is expected to recover.

WHAT THE BONUS AS PASSED BY CONGRESS MEANS TO FORMER U. S. SERVICE MAN

Washington, May 20.—It is estimated that 3,038,283 veterans will be entitled to the insurance policies provided by the soldier bonus bill enacted into law. While $38,583 will be paid cash of $50 or less. The bill also provides for payment to dependents of deceased veterans of the amount of adjusted service compensation to which they would have been entitled.

Adjusted service compensation is figured on the basis of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service. The first sixty days cannot be counted. Also a maximum of 500 days would be allowed.

All veterans up to and including the rank of captain in the army and navy are eligible for the bonus.

It is estimated that the average insurance policy would be valued at $662 while the maximum value of the policies would be about $1900 for overseas service and $1600 for home service.

The value of the policy would be the equivalent of the amount which the adjusted service credit plus 25 per cent would purchase at regular insurance prices based on 4 per cent interest compounded annually. To determine the latter computation a table of factors has been compiled by experts.

Multiplication of the proper factor by the amount of adjusted service compensation due the veterans, plus twenty-five per cent, would give the face value of the insurance certificate. Each certificate, of course, would vary according to the length of service of the veteran and his age at the date of issuance of the policy. The policies would be dated next Jan. 1.

The table of factors follows:

Age.	Fac.	Age.	Fac.
20	2.545	35	2.498
21	2.544	36	2.492
22	2.542	37	2.485
23	2.540	38	2.478
24	2.539	39	2.470
25	2.537	40	2.460
26	2.535	41	2.450
27	2.532	42	2.439
28	2.530	43	2.426
29	2.527	44	2.413
30	2.524	45	2.398
31	2.521	46	2.381
32	2.517	47	2.364
33	2.513	48	2.345
34	2.509	49	2.324
35	2.504	50	2.302

Application for the bonus may be made at any time before January 1, 1928, but the cash payments will not be distributed until after next March 1.

Loans may be made on the policies up to 90 per cent of the current face value any time after two years from the date of issuance. Thus, on a $1,000 policy at the end of two years a loan of $72.93 could be made. On this same policy at the end of nineteen years a loan of $31.23 would be possible. The loans may be made at any national or state bank.

Service between April 5, 1917 and July 1, 1919, may be counted in computing the adjusted service credit, although enlistment must have been made before Nov. 11, 1918.

Application blanks soon will be distributed throughout the country through service organizations and the postoffices. Although administration of the bill will center in the veterans bureau, the veteran will have to send his application to the war department if his service was with the army and to the navy department if service was with the navy or marine corps.

Women who served as yeomen in the navy and marine corps also were included in the bill as eligible to receive its benefits.

The bill stipulates that no one shall be entitled to its benefits for service as a civilian officer or for membership in the reserve training corps or the students' army training corps.

The cost of the bonus has been variously estimated at from $2,250,000,000 to $4,000,000,000, treasury officials making the higher estimate. The only cash provided for is $5 to each service man not entitled to more than that in adjusted service credit. Others would receive a paid up 20 years' endowment insurance policy.

MODISH MITZI—Adelaide Receives Some Engagement Presents.

BY JAY V. JAY

It's all in the papers. She has looked through the society columns and found it—the announcement of her engagement to Harry. Her phone has been ringing all morning, so that you see Adelaide pleasantly excited and attractively though scantily clad. The combination she is wearing has a yoke at the top of the pantaloons to do away with shirring.

Mitzi is the first caller. She has brought an engagement gift to Adelaide. It's the handsomest nightgown that ever belonged to a bride. Mitzi has put on her stunning new street dress for the call. The features of the dress are the pique forearm sleeves and the boyish collar. The lines are straight and simple.

Adelaide has slipped on the easiest dress possible. It is a slip-on made after a peasant style, with a smocked neck and sleeve. Polly has brought a gift of lingerie, too. She wears a dress in directoire style with a coatee effect with large reverses. The sleeves are of a figured silk.

"From Mr. Harry," says the maid as she delivers to Adelaide a huge box of flowers. Adelaide has almost rudely pushed both Mitzi's and Polly's gifts aside, unopened. "Love must be blind, when it makes even Adelaide look at flowers instead of fashions," wistfully wonders Mitzi.

BRITON MAKES LONG JOURNEY TO CURE INDIAN PRINCE OF CANCER

London, May 20.—One of the longest and most remarkable journeys ever undertaken to perform a surgical operation has just been completed by P. Lockhart-Mummery, famous English cancer specialist and chairman of the British Empire Cancer Campaign to wipe out cancer.

He has just returned from the 15,000-mile distant city of Khatmandu, in India, one of the two forbidden cities in the world, to where he was called to perform an operation on the 19-year-old Maharajah of Nepal in his wonderful palace there.

Strangers are only allowed in Khatmandu on the express invitation of the Maharajah, and can only leave with his permission. Lockhart-Mummery is perhaps the first stranger to have entertained its gates in this way, and he has brought back some vivid impressions of the journey, the city and its inhabitants, and the Maharajah.

When Lockhart-Mummery and his assistants arrived at the nearest railroad they were met by the Maharajah's representatives with an automobile and three huge elephants, the former for the conveyance of the passengers and the latter for the baggage.

Lockhart-Mummery describes the journey through the jungle to Khatmandu as "amazing," the passengers being thrown about the automobile during the first day's journey along a dried-up riverbed. Armed guards accompanied the party until the Himalayas had been crossed and the Maharajah's territory was reached.

At the bottom of the Himalayas the royal carriages awaited them, and they were driven to the royal palace, a large palace standing in its own grounds, in appearance like an old English country house.

Describing the Maharajah, Lockhart-Mummery says he was always gorgeously attired and wearing wonderful jewels whenever he received his visitors. A noticeable jewel was his one earring, an enormous ruby. His five-year-old daughter was always present with him, and she was observed one day on the parade ground leading a regiment of soldiers, with full band, round and round the parade ground, all looking as serious as sphinxes.

The palace ladies were good-looking and all very fair. Black lines painted under their eyes and continued to the ears gave them a very amusing appearance. Everyone, even the children, had vermilion marks on the forehead, indicating their royal caste.

The visitors found that the city itself consisted mainly of temples and palaces, the remainder being slums. The innumerable palaces were both huge and gorgeous, with wonderful gardens, fountains and aviaries.

The Maharajah's operation is understood to have been successful.

At the city prison, Mrs. Dolby reiterated that her motive, in hurling carbolic acid on Hackney as he sat in a theater, was "to disfigure him so no other woman would want him."

Hackney's death was due to fright, it was said. Mrs. Dolby denied any intent of murder.

Popular Sergeant Powell is today a well man, and feels so happy and thankful that he wants every one suffering with rheumatism to hear his story so that they in turn will follow his example and be restored to health.

Could Not Work for Two Years
"I had rheumatism as bad as anyone could and had not worked for two years. May, 1917, was the blackest month of my life. Both my legs and arms swelled to double their size and I was taken to the hospital. I got no better; doctors and medicines had no effect."

Enlisted at Camp Devens
"No one knows how I suffered, until I read about 'Neutrone Prescription 99' and got a bottle. Right away I improved; the swellings all left my arms and legs. What a relief after all the pain and misery I had gone through. Fully recovered in August, I enlisted, and served to the end of the war, with never a return of Rheumatism."

No One Need Give Up Hope
"Neutrone Prescription 99" cured me where doctors and hospitals failed and I do not want any one to give up hope until they have tried this wonderful preparation. I am a living proof of what it will do for others."

There is no excuse why anyone should suffer with Rheumatism. Go to your Druggist today, and get a bottle of "Neutrone Prescription 99". Rid your system of rheumatic poisons forever.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR

Mr. William E. Harmon, originator of one of the earliest practical methods of selling land on the installment plan, is president of the New York real estate firm which bears his name, and of several allied corporations. For more than thirty years he has been a leading factor in suburban developments in various parts of the country. His companies, which at one time operated in twenty-six cities, have sold $200,000,000 worth of real estate. A short time ago he established the Harmon Foundation, which specializes in student loans and children's playgrounds. Mr. Harmon was born in Ohio in 1862, and was studying medicine when a crisis in the family's fortunes caused him to abandon his classes and obtain work.

Lebanon has felt kindly towards Mr. Harmon because of the public spirit he has always shown in his gifts for the benefit of all classes of its citizens.

We clip from the American Magazine one feature of Mr. Harmon's benefactions, as related by James C. Derieux:

"Some years ago," he explained, "I discovered a community in Brooklyn that needed a playground. There was vacant land near by, but the people who were interested in the children didn't have any money. I thought about the matter, and after a while an idea flashed into my mind.

"A friend got an option on the vacant property, and we broke it up into tiny lots two by ten feet, prepared a little 'deed' for each one, and then put the children to work selling the lots at three dollars apiece. The sale was a great success, and that playground is in use today.

"A man will buy a little piece of land even when he will not give money outright—especially if the children get after him! The fact that his deed transfers the land to the playground organization makes no difference to him. What could he do with a lot not much bigger than a towel?

"This same plan will work anywhere. Conduct the sale just as if it were a regular land sale. Advertise it. Make the children do the selling, for they can put it across and at the same time learn something that will be of value to them in later life. Give each purchaser a deed with a stipulation in that the property he is donating must be used forever as a place of recreation. Each town can fix the prices of the miniature lots to suit itself; or can auction them off, if that is considered the best way.

"The Foundation will be glad to assist any community especially a small city or town—obtain a place for children to play. We have a saying that 'The gift of land is the gift eternal.' I've seen a park in Rome that for more than two thousand years has given pleasure to millions of people. A playground now will be a playground forever, for land is the one thing that does not perish.

"And children will play! If they don't have a decent place to romp, they will take to the streets and associate with the worst elements in town, just as I did.

"Another thing that gives me endless pleasure is loaning money to college students. I've been doing that for thirty years, and not one of the men I have trusted has failed to pay up. Recently I set aside one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to be loaned to college boys and girls."

SUN'S DEATH MAY CENTRALIZE CHINA

With the death of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, about which there seems to be some doubt, the visionary leader of the recalcitrant South China Government, the capital of Canton is expected to pass into the hands of the Peking government, whose forces for the last year have been battling the troops of the "Constitutionalist" President.

While Dr. Sun surrounded himself with a number of loyal and efficient generals and governmental leaders, it is not considered likely that any of his associates will be able to wield sufficient influence to prevent a collapse of the Southern regime.

According to reports received from Canton, it would surprise no one to learn that the Government and military authorities had evacuated the city. In this eventuality the Sun mercenary troops may become a grave danger and menace to the safety of the city, unless General Chen Chung-Ming and his opposition forces are able to take immediate control.

General Chen, formerly Minister of War for Dr. Sun under the first South China Government, revolted and ousted Sun in 1922. President Sun, however returned in 1923 and drove out Chen. Since then General Chen, under the banner of General Wu Pei-Fu, the Loyang war lord, and the Peking Government, have waged unceasing hostilities against the forces of his former chief-tain.

Whether the reported passing of the Southern leader will mean the centralization of Chinese government is unpredictable. Some influential Chinese believe that Sun's death will mean the wiping out of many sectional differences which have thus far kept the Republic in chaos. Others say that new opposition may spring up which will cause a continuation of civil war more devastating than that which has been fought in the South.

THE LESSONS

"Mother," I said, "It's a long, long lane this lane of the years we fare, And we have traveled it day by day through its laughter and hurt and care.

And what shall we teach of the things we've learned to the children who follow on?

And what shall we give them to keep them safe in the days when we shall be gone?"

Then we talked it over—life's fame and wealth and cunning and strength and skill, And the cheers of men for a noble deed, and the thing that is called a thrill,

And the tempter's voice, and the pit-falls deep when pleasures are running strong,

When it seems so hard to do the right, and so easy to do the wrong.

And the mother said: "Let us keep them close, yes, close to us day by day.

Let us teach them never to lie for gain, let the prize be what it may;

Let us teach them to value this home we keep and never to stoop to shame.

Let us teach them that honor's a greater thing than fortune or skill or fame.

"Let us teach them to follow the friendly ways, to serve, to be fair and kind,

To reap life's pleasures wherever they grow, but to leave no wrong behind;

Let us give them a faith to lean upon when the shadows of sorrow fall,

And we need not fear what the future holds, they shall safely brave it all."

FEELING

That which we feel stays with us to a greater or less degree. Much of our feeling toward life is influenced by what we hear and see. We never know how deep our words sink into other people's inner lives. And we know how deep our words sink into other people's inner lives. And we never know what construction has been placed upon our thoughts and acts. But feeling in the other fellow absorbs our words and acts and makes them permanent in their influence.

It is easy to laugh off the "little tilt" the bitter words that have later been covered with smiles—but when does the scar go away?

How scant is our education in Understanding—the sort of understanding that keeps silent until all the bitterness of the heart has been washed away!

Like the breath that flowers blow to the summer air is kindness and gentleness.

Nothing fine is ever wasted or lost. Whatever you do or say that gives pleasure, happiness or renewed inspiration to someone else, lives forever.

If everyone could come to realize this fact, everything we do would take upon itself something akin to divinity, and we would measure life in the terms of eternity.

When we come to appreciate values, we then enter the four-square man's estate.

What gain is there that compares to the gain of having made another man feel this is a better world than he had dreamed it to be?

Beauty is a feeling. Expression is a feeling. Our daily task must be to transfer the feelings that make us happy and useful.

Only as we feel, do we desire. And as we acquire interests outside our narrow and selfish circle, we see the entire world enlarge.

If people feel better after they have left you, you have no need to worry as to how you will feel.

ONE MORE MONUMENT TO USEFULNESS OF HORSE PASSES AS CHURCH REMOVES SHEDS

This is a tragedy in one-act entitled "The Departure of Dobbin." The characters are:
R. R. Grieve, an auctioneer.
F. J. Sanders, a prospective purchaser.
Others who take the part of bidders, onlookers, innocent bystanders, gleeful motorists.

The scene is laid in the rear of the Second United Presbyterian Church, Market and West Streets. The time is last Saturday, a cool, gloomy day. The synopsis:

Many years ago, the congregation of the Second United Presbyterian Church, Xenia, Ohio, many of whom lived in rural communities, caused to be erected a series of horse-sheds around their church property to shelter the horses which pulled the vehicles that brought the faithful parishioners to worship.

Later, however, and largely through the machinations of one Henry Ford, and sundry other manufacturers of high and low priced automobile products, the number of horses driven each Sunday to the church was greatly diminished. For that reason a section of the horse-sheds, not being essential was torn away and disposed of.

Then there came a time when the members of the congregation, on finding that only few if any of their number employed the faithful equine as a means of locomotion decided that the horse-sheds had fallen into total disuse and were nothing more than an eye-sore. They therefore decided that they should be sold.

The little tragedy finds its climax in the sale of the remaining horse-sheds by the auctioneer, R. R. Grieve, who does not grieve at all, to F. J. Sanders, farmer, Van Eaton Road, who causes them to be removed, thus riding the city of one more monument left by the era of the horse.

The curtain falls as workmen begin preparing the yard and the space formerly occupied by the horse sheds, as a parking place for the automobiles of the parishioners.

REPRESENTATIVES OF AMERICA'S OLDEST FAMILY.

ST. ELMO ACOSTA & DAUGHTER. INTL.

Above is shown St. Elmo Acosta, City Commissioner of Jacksonville, Fla., with his daughter, Miss Alvarez Regina Acosta. Mr. Acosta, his sister, Ellen, and their children, are direct descendants in America of Pedro Menendez de Aviles, who founded St. Augustine, Fla., in 1565, or 55 years before the Pilgrims landed on a celebrated rock. Mr. Acosta and his family were guests of honor at Ponce de Leon Day in St. Augustine, when the founding of the city was celebrated.

"VENUS" GOES BACK TO MAIN STREET.

CONSTANCE McDERMOTT & GAIL ERWIN.

Eighteen-year-old Constance McDermott has gone back to Main street, in Nelson, Minn., sadder, but wiser. She went to Chicago to make her fortune, and ended by posing in the nude in life classes in Chi Gail Erwin, "Adonis" of the same art colony, who posed in the Winter and was a life guard in the Summer. Jilted by him, she alleged, she swallowed poison and fell in a faint while posing before an art class. Physicians saved her life, and she went back home to forget forever the life of "Bohemia."

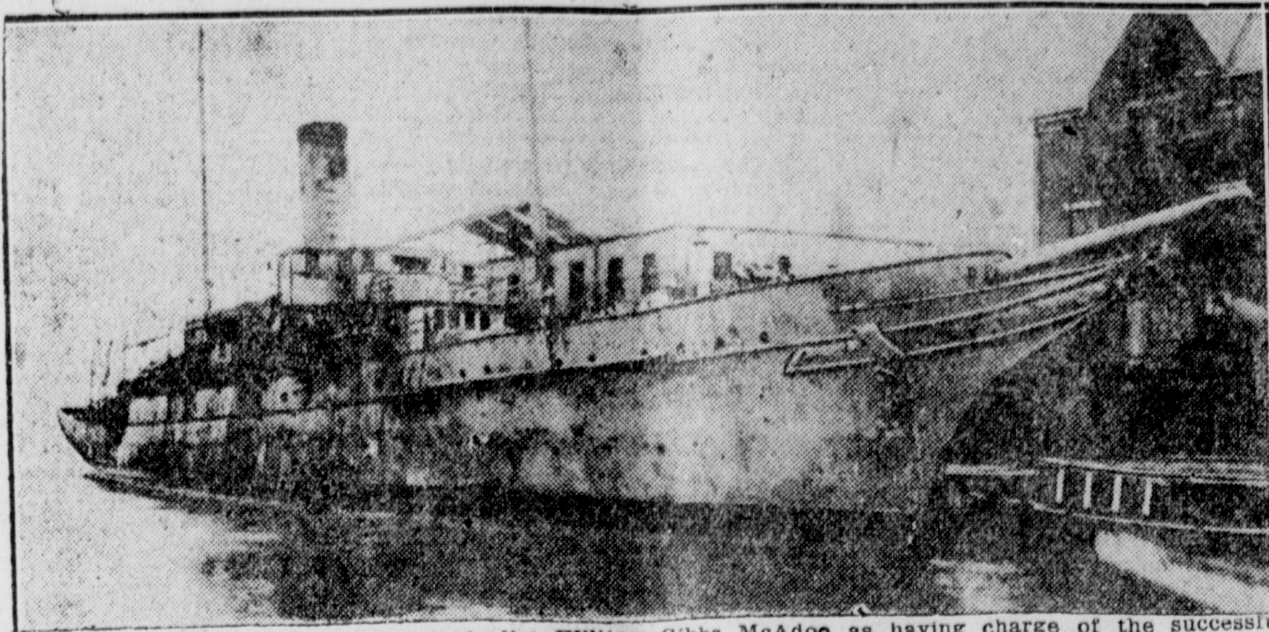

BEAUTY DOES NOT INTERFERE WITH BUSINESS.

MISS BEATRICE WARD. OUTL.

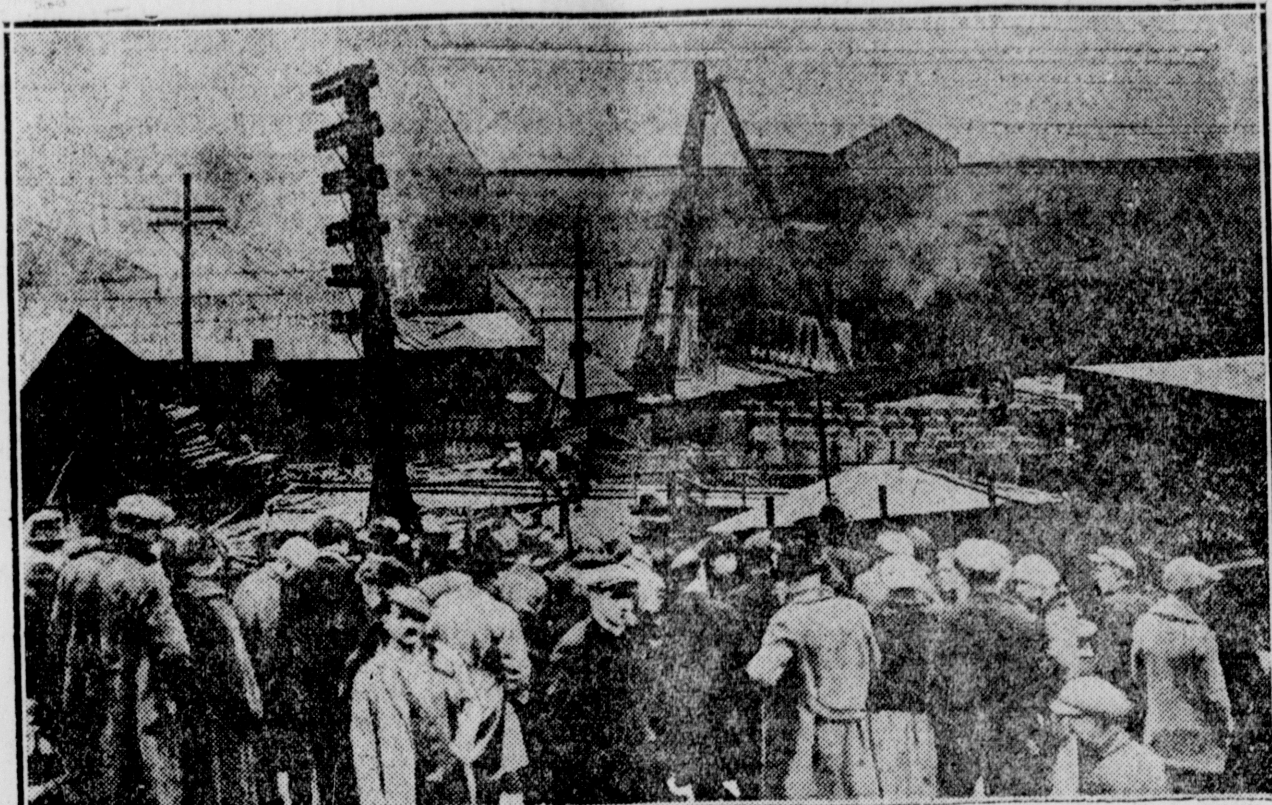

That a successful business woman can still be beautiful is more than proved in the case of Miss Beatrice Ward, secretary to the National Conference on State Parks, with offices in the Interior Department, Washington, D. C. She carries on an intensive correspondence with the Governors of all the States, urging them to establish areas for recreation and for the preservation of wild life. She is meeting with great success.

M'ADOO DENIES PART IN YACHT DAMAGE CASE.

Although Navy Department records list William Gibbs McAdoo as having charge of the successful claim of Albert C. Burrage, millionaire copper king of Boston, for $300,000 damages to his yacht, Arctec, while the Government had it during the war, Gordon Woodbury, Assistant Secretary of the Navy toward the end of the second Wilson Administration, declared in New York that McAdoo had nothing to do with the case, which was handled by his law partner. It is asserted Burrage paid only $75,000 for the yacht.

Below: GEORGE OTIS SMITH, MRS. BEULAH CROKER & WILLIAM M. HUGHES.

Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, U. S. N., are two of three members selected by President Coolidge to make a survey of oil-land conditions, to determine how the petroleum deposits of the United States and Alaska can best be conserved. Because of threats against his life, alleged to have been made by radical elements who dislike his conservatism, an armed guard has been assigned to protect J. H. Thomas, Laborite Secretary for the Colonies in the British Labor Cabinet. William Morris Hughes, former Labor Premier of Australia, in America on a visit, jeered the Labor Ministry in Great Britain because it contained three Lords and was adding others. A temporary advantage, which may result in great financial gain to her, was won in New York City by Mrs. Beulah Edmonston Croker, Indian widow of Richard Croker, former head of Tammany Hall, who died on his Irish estates, in her fight against claims of Croker's sons and daughters by his first wife. Ruth B. Esparza, a girl of humble parentage from Guanajuato, Mexico, has enrolled at the Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill., to fit herself for teaching the illiterate children of her native country.

REJECTED, BOBS HAIR AND WINS BEAUTY CONTEST.

Miss Ruth Ellington, of St. Paul, Minn., with long flowing tresses, entered a recent beauty contest and was rejected by the judges. Two others in the preliminary contest were chosen, and she noted that both had bobbed hair. A visit to the barber shop followed and she returned, with her brown locks shorn. Instantly she was seized upon by the judges and chosen Queen of Queens.

WHO WILL BE NEW LEADER OF TAMMANY HALL?

CHARLES F. MURPHY.

The sudden death of Charles F. Murphy, leader for many years of Tammany Hall, New York's Democratic organization, and one of the most influential chieftains in national politics, will probably result in a free-for-all scramble for the leadership, holding, as it does, a vast amount of patronage.

Miss Anna D. Hooper, secretary to her father, Ben W. She will, therefore, have two votes for President Coolidge—one in the convention and a second time at the general election, if he is nominated.

VETOES ENCOURAGE MARKET; FINANCIAL REVIEW OF WEEK

BY JAMES B. CLEWS
Wall Street, New York, May 20—
Passage of the tax bill by the senate takes another step toward the improvement of conditions which have for a long time past held back the course of business development. The tax bill in the form in which it passed the senate is, of course, far from satisfactory, but it has now to go through the extensive process of amendment and modification, which will be necessary to put it into shape to receive the President's signature. In the meantime Mr. Coolidge's action in vetoing the Bursom pension bill and the action of the senate in sustaining the veto have tended to encourage the community in its attitude of confidence with respect to liberty bond values and government credit in general.

Agricultural Situation Brighter
Early returns from both the cotton and grain areas show a very satisfactory crop outlook and the president of the United States Chamber of Commerce reports that "conditions are improving." He finds confidence and energy on the farm and a disposition to shift intelligently to better paying crops. Co-operative market methods are improving so that it is the opinion of Mr. Barnes that the year is likely to be a favorable one agriculturally, the result, of course, inevitably being, as usual encouraging to business in general. As for the immediate status of business it continues to reflect the wait-and-see attitude which has been characteristic for some time past and there seems little question that this will continue practically unchanged until the political situation becomes clearer. Labor conditions throughout the country are apparently in a reasonably satisfactory condition. The April figures, just available, for foreign trade show moderate increases in both exports and imports for the last available month, while European demand for cotton and other materials continues to be reported good. The prevalent opinion is clearly to the effect that textile conditions have probably about reached low level and that from now on at least moderate recovery will be the order of the day. Fair demand for a good many manufactured products offsets the relative falling off in purchase of steel, which is attributable largely to decline of forward orders in building. Altogether, the situation is one of reasonable promise in the majority of business lines, notwithstanding a narrowing margin of profit, which tends to cause hesitation in new commitments, and can be most directly relieved by cutting down the tax burden should congress and the President succeed in reaching an agreement.

Foreign Borrowing
An important recommendation has been made by the federal advisory council of the Federal Reserve System in asking the reserve board to revise its rules and regulations so as to be helpful in European rehabilitation. Already the discounting of German bills has been authorized and the benefit to trade which may come from such a policy is obvious. This of course is the assumption that the credit is carefully distributed and made available to all for the use of industries purely engaged in economic reconstruction. Meantime, however, gold continues to flow into the United States, the amount for last month being $45,000,000. As for the European situation itself the French elections have naturally caused some confusion and doubt, which, however, will soon be dispelled when the newly elected representatives take office. There is much to be said in favor of the view that the outcome will tend toward a better feeling between France and Germany, owing to the probable elimination of Premier Poincare, who has so long been a cause of offense to the Germans. Growing favor for the plans of the American committee of experts is also to be noted both in France and Germany, while it is generally admitted that the definite acceptance of the scheme and the making of the necessary financial arrangements consequent thereon will lead to decided improvement of trade.

Congress and the Railroads
Congressional disposition to interfere with the railroads has again come to the front in connection with

BOBBED-HAIRED BANDIT HAS LOYAL SUITOR

LEONA SHEEHAN & R. E. STEPHENS

Leona Sheehan, pretty bobbed-haired Boston girl, under arrest there on the charge of holding up and robbing a Harvard student, is still in jail, though her mail accomplice is freed on bail. She has a staunch advocate, however, in Robert Edgar Stephens, engineer of the Boston Art Club, who declares he stands ready to marry her as soon as she is freed—if she says "yes."

The resolution designed to secure action from the Interstate Commerce Commission looking to the making of favorable rates on farm products. Such action is, of course, out of the question, unless the commission is disposed to disorganize schedules and cut down the earnings of the roads to an even greater extent. It is not likely that any step of the sort will be taken, but the fact that extreme proposals of this kind can be urged shows why it is that railroad interests are anxious to be assured of a more definite business before they undertake any large expansions in their operations. So far as existing business is concerned the status is favorable, carloadings on many roads showing up better than they did a year ago while the very decided steadiness of railroad shares in the market emphasizes the fact that the floating supply of transportation shares continues light, ownership being held by investors who have taken them out of the market believing that if unhampered by unwise legislation the future of the railroads is assured.

Strong Financial Status
With money abundant and cheap, and with the Federal Reserve System showing a ratio for the past week of 83 per cent, and decided decline in bills discounted, financial conditions continue as unimpeachable as ever. The ups and downs of foreign exchange have continued during the week, partly the result of the election uncertainties in France and Germany. Speculative operations have done their share to deprive the continental currencies of stability, but with definite action taken in favor of European rehabilitation it may be expected that these difficulties will disappear and that exchange will assume a more nearly fixed footing. Meanwhile there is every reason to expect a season of ease in money conditions. It is now estimated that Wall Street loans have been reduced to about $1,100,000,000, or lower than any level for a good while past, a fact which accounts for the very small amount of liquidation that is taking place. Interior banks are tending to put their funds into the investment market with a view to making a slightly higher rate of earnings than they can obtain either in the stock market or in commercial paper with figures as they are at the present time.

out" basis, that weak accounts have been well liquidated and that the great bulk of stocks are now held by investors who are looking confidently to a better condition of things in the early future. The policy apparently adopted by corporate managers to be liberal with their shareholders is further evidenced by the extra dividend declared by the Atlantic Coast Line Company, and it is expected that the directors of the Reading Coal and Iron Company will shortly put that stock on a dividend basis. Quiet trading has been the prevailing situation during most of the week, with fluctuations comparatively narrow and the public still waiting to see what Congress is going to do before making fresh ventures, but with hope revived now that there is a chance of adjournment early next month.

LOVERS' WHISPERS ON 'LOUD SPEAKER'

Madison, Wis., May 19.—There is a blushing group of swains and their "sweeties" on the campus of the University of Wisconsin. It resulted from an impromptu laboratory course in love-making to which a professor and a number of fraternity students are said to have furnished instruction. Down at the end of Park street, right on the shore of Lake Mendota, where one can hear the monotonous lap-lap of the wavelets on the shore line—where the pale, silvery moonbeams stream through newly leaved trees—is "Lover's Bench." It is the nook of peace and quiet. For years the

Miss M. Mitchell Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Mother

"My mother had a bad breaking out on her head which caused her much trouble day and night by burning and itching. It took the form of blisters at first and then scaled over. It looked terrible and her hair fell out. She lost sleep on account of the irritation, and had been troubled for years. She read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some. After the first application she felt better, and after using two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, together with the Cuticura Soap, she was completely healed." MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

A BUSINESS CAN BE NO BETTER THAN THE MEN IN IT

UNIVERSAL PRODUCTS CO. PRESIDENT VICE PRESIDENT SEC. & TREAS.

WHAT DO THEY RATE?

Industrial stock is as good as the ability of the men at the head of the business.

If you think of buying industrial stock or bonds, investigate the records of the men who direct the enterprise. Your banker will help you in this investigation or will direct you to reliable sources of information.

An industry that supplies something the public needs or wants, or an industry which is controlled and managed by able men is usually an excellent investment.

But, an industrial enterprise that does not supply definite needs or wants is a speculation. Such an enterprise directed by men of doubtful ability or of insufficient experience is a most undesirable financial risk.

Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced

Never mind what people say, if you have varicose or swollen veins and want to reduce them to normal, go to Sayre and Hemphill and ask for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength). If he hasn't it, he can get it.

Apply it to the enlarged veins as directed and improvement will be noticed in a few days. Continue its use until the veins return to normal size. It is guaranteed to reduce swollen veins or money back, and also to reduce swollen glands, goitre and wens.

TUBERCULOSIS IN OHIO FLOCKS FOUND

In visiting about 100 flocks of poultry within the past two weeks, a poultry extension specialist from the Ohio State University found 15 of the 100 flocks infected with tuberculosis.

"While tuberculosis may not be any more prevalent in Ohio than it was last year or the year before, it's prevalent enough to warrant a close watch by all poultrymen who want to keep their flocks in contact," says G. S. Vickers, the specialist who visited those 100 flocks.

"The unfortunate part of it," he continues, "is that I found this condition among flocks that are cared for better than the average in Ohio. Probably the flocks became infected through accident, rather than through any lack of care."

"Usually when a hen becomes tubercular it becomes lame and thin. Watch for that. Then get rid of such birds at once. Rear young chicks away from the old ones and on fresh ground."

"If you are at all suspicious that some in the flock have the disease, cull more severely than you would ordinarily. Flocks will soon drop in production, and culling should immediately follow that decrease."

"If the disease is widespread, the only thing to do is to dispose of the whole flock, lime the ground and turn it over, and spray all houses and equipment thoroughly with a disinfectant. Above all, rear young chicks away from the infected ground and flock."

PALESTINE EXHIBIT SHOWS VERSATILITY

London, May 19.—One of the most interesting exhibits at the British Empire Exhibition, which opened at Wembley Park in April, is the Palestine Pavilion, where the extent to which Jews of the world have succeeded in establishing a national home in the ancient land of their fathers is portrayed.

Sharp contrast between the ancient and the modern is seen in the Palestine Pavilion. One of the features is a booth where Yemenite Jews produce silver jewelry similar in type to that found in tombs dating back to early days of Bible history. At another booth is a model of the modern power station at Tel Aviv, while still another demonstrates the process of making silicate bricks from sand.

Palestine's agricultural resources are on exhibition in the form of an imposing display of the various cereals grown in the country. Palestine oranges had the honor of being the first to appear on the exhibition grounds, the season being earlier there than in South Africa.

The chemical section of the Government geological exhibit focuses attention on the mineral wealth of the Dead Sea, which, it is estimated, contains potash deposits worth $40,000,000,000.

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE HALF-TIME WIFE By VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY

SUZANNE ATWOOD, the young wife of a prominent business man, GEOFFREY ATWOOD, is faced by the fact that his secretary, LINDA VALE, is trying to come between them. Geoffrey refuses to explain various unusual circumstances which lead to that suspicion. An old beau of Suzanne's, LIEUTENANT DUNCAN HALE, tries to persuade her to leave Geoffrey, who is much older than she, get a divorce, and marry him. Geoffrey's nephew, DICK LEIGH, is taken sick with scarlet fever, and the house is quarantined. Suzanne goes to a hotel to stay, determined to leave Geoffrey, but he follows her and engages one suite for both.

XXXI—THE LAW INTERVENES.

SUZANNE walked slowly down the corridor toward her suite. Now that she had definitely broken with Geoffrey and left his home, she felt rather at a loose end. It was hard not to be sorry for herself. She wondered just what she would do when Duncan Hale had explained everything to Geoffrey, and she straightened everything out and was free to go her own way. She could go back to her aunt, of course, but that had never been a particularly happy home, that one of her aunts, it would not be like having her own home had been. And Geoff wouldn't be there. Until now she had not realized how important a part of her life he had become. She had never even begun to realize how much she cared for him.

She entered the living room, glanced around, and sighed. How dismal—how terribly empty it was. That hotel had always prided itself on the homelikeness of its rooms; when Suzanne had called on friends who were stopping there she had thought its apartments charming. Now she wondered what had possessed her.

She walked over to the window, turned and went slowly into the nearest bedroom. On a table was a huge bunch of lilies of the valley.

"Oh—the proprietor must have sent them up! How nice!" she exclaimed.

"No, I did." That was Geoffrey's voice. She whirled around, and stood staring at him.

"I've come with a bit of news," he announced. "Mrs. Vale, her daughter, Lolita, and Duncan Hale are all quarantined at our home."

"Geoffrey!" she cried, sinking into a chair.

"Ludicrous, isn't it? Of course, the house should have been quarantined when Dick was first taken sick—it was just out of courtesy that the doctor put the ban on the third floor only instead of the whole house—and somehow the dead secret came out, and the officers of the law arrived just as Mrs. Vale and your friend the Lieutenant did."

Suzanne began to laugh. How delicious, for Mrs. Vale to be safely shut up, where her activities would be curbed!

5 cents - 7 days

If an average family of five persons bought only Swift & Company meats for one week during 1923, that family would have paid the company, as profit, less than 5 cents on the week's supply.

These figures are developed by considering U. S. Government statistics on meat consumption in relation to Swift & Company's profit.

By the intelligent use of capital, Swift & Company prepares meats in a modern, sanitary, scientifically-clean manner.

By intensive organization, Swift & Company distributes every variety of meat, under complete refrigeration, to retail markets of great cities and small hamlets—wherever they may be located.

It is only through the most efficient methods that a company can supply the meat requirements of a family of five persons, anywhere in this country, for a period of seven days, at a profit of only 5 cents.

Swift & Company's profit from all sources in 1923 averaged only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold.
